Hometown Pharmacy Offers Free Vitamins to Children

March 19, 2018

(Youngstown, OH) - Children ages 5 to 12 can get free vitamins thanks to a partnership with the United Way of Youngstown and the Mahoning Valley and Hometown Pharmacy. The two organizations promoted the Healthy Kids Free Vitamin program today at Struthers Elementary School.

"Our United Way's goal is to break down the barriers students and their families may face, and this partnership with Hometown Pharmacy is just another example of how we are providing additional resources for them." said Bob Hannon, President of the United Way of Youngstown and the Mahoning Valley, "The Mrozek family and Hometown Pharmacy are great supporters of United Way, and are finding ways to help families stay healthy."

Parents and guardians can go into any Hometown Pharmacy and sign their children up to receive high-quality vitamins for free.

"Hometown Pharmacies vitamin program exists to help parents encourage healthy behavior in their kids," said Garry Mrozek, Hometown Pharmacy Solutions CEO, "Taking vitamins and eating healthy is a major part of their growth and development."

In addition, Hometown Pharmacy hosted a coloring contest at Struthers Elementary School this month. The top 3 winners from each class took part in a pizza party.
